Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Carroll and daughter Ruth enjoyed an auto trip to Portland, Saturday.

Etta Noyes is very sick with the grippe at her home on Bridge street.

There will be a social given by the Y. P. C. U. at the Universalist Church this Monday evening and there will be a third degree on candidates who have been called in the draft and were anxious to take their degree before leaving, May 29.

Oxford Lodge Ark Mariners will hold regular meeting Wednesday evening at Masonic Hall, where there will be work. Visitors from out of town are expected. The meeting will be followed by a banquet.

The District Encampment No. 5, was held with Willey Encampment No. 21, I. O. O. F. at Oxford, Friday evening. The district includes Aurora Encampment No. 23, of South Paris, Molly Ockett Encampment conferred the Royal Purple degree on two candidates. There were about 60 present. Following the work a banquet was served. Remarks were enjoyed from the visitors who included Walter G. Hicks grand patriarch of Rumford; J. Herbert Patten, grand senior warden of Bar Harbor; William H. Gruber, grand marshal of Rumford and district deputy grand patriarch, El. H. S. Doble, of West Paris.

Mrs. R. L. Husband, New England Superintendent of the American Red Cross Civilian Relief and Home Service work, spoke at the Grange Hall Monday afternoon in the interest of the work.

Fred Jordan has moved his family from the Eugene F. Smith cottage on Whitman street to Oxford where he has employment.

Fish and Game Commissioner W. E. Parsons of Portland, held a hearing at the Municipal Court Rooms Friday regarding closing fishing from off Crockett's Bridge. It was decided to close the waters to all kinds of fishing within 200 feet of each side of the bridge. Thus the old restrictions continue at the bridge.

Mr. Burnie and family of Island Pond, Vt., have moved to town and are looking for a rent. He and family are to work in the shoe factory and knitting mill.

Mr. Lord of Lacombe, Me., is stopping for a short rest at Cedarbrook Farm. Herman A. Richardson closed his labors with E. B. Jackson and goes to South Portland to engage in ship building. This week he is attending to fishing.

Dr. F. H. Richardson was in Portland Monday. He was offered a job in the shipping department of the Portland Hardware and Ship Implement Co. of South Portland. Of course he refused for the people of Norway don't want to let their hair and beard grow too long.

The graduation exercises of the Norway Grammar school will take place in the Grange Hall Friday evening June 7, with an interesting program including the regular class parts and a beautiful flag drill. The net proceeds are for the Red Cross.

So close are the comparative merits of the two motor boats, one built and owned by Ben and Henry Hosmer, the other a product from the mechanical genius of "Mickey" Welch, that a matched race may take place, possibly on July 4th. Both crafts, are very swift with auto engines for power. They are built along different lines and are not alike in behavior during rough weather. The Hosmer boat has the unofficial reputation of being the speediest shell on the lake, "Mickey" has grave doubts and frankly admits he is right from Missouri.

Col. M. W. Sampson shows us a trout weighing 2 pounds and 2 ounces which he caught in the log near the logs Tuesday p. m.

The delegates appointed Sunday to attend the 91st annual session of the Maine Universalist Convention and auxiliary societies at Dexter, June 3-6 are as follows: Mrs. Stella B. Prince, Mrs. P. A. Danforth, and Mrs. Charles G. Blake.

THE NORWAY ADVERTISER
(OXFORD COUNTY, ME.)

NUMBER 22. Single C. py 4 Cents. NORWAY, ME. FRIDAY, MAY 31, 1918. VOLUME XLIX

WILLIAM J. WHEELER, South Paris
Known to Everyone in Oxford County, Observed his 76th Birthday in a Befitting Manner May 26th

Mr. Wheeler has been actively engaged in selling Insurance, Pianos and Organs for the past 47 years and has also taken a leading and active part in building up of all the industries of the town in which he has lived. He is now and has been President of the Oxford County Agricultural Society for the past 18 years. He has always been interested in farming, and the raising of good horses.

He has five self supporting children. The oldest son, H. G. Wheeler, is the Chief Traffic Manager of the New England Tel. and Tel. Co. of New Hampshire, with headquarters at Manchester. His youngest son, Robert, is a member of Uncle Sam's Army and is stationed at Fort McKinley, Portland Harbor, while Stanley Wheeler is the active head of the Insurance business at South Paris. Susie married Roy Cole, who is the principal of the Canton, Mass., High School and Alice M. is the wife of Col. A. J. Stearns of Norway.

Mr. Wheeler's wife is living and he is happily surrounded at his 76th birthday. He was born in Dixfield, Me. All his friends hope there are many more birthdays in store for him.

James A. Shedd Injured by Auto
As James A. Shedd started to cross Main street Wednesday morning by Richardson's market, and just as he stepped out into the street he was run into by Sam Isaacson's auto truck which was slowly coming up the street. His head was badly cut and bruised and two of the wheels passed over his body. Mr. Isaacson stopped within five feet of the accident and assisted him into an auto which carried him home. He was badly shaken up and bruised, but no bones were broken.

Carroll, Jellerson Co. Foreman Enters Service
Frank M. Buckley, who severed his connection with the Carroll, Jellerson Co., Saturday, to enter the service, was presented a valuable wrist watch with illuminated dial in a heavy black bracelet by the employees in his room and the overseers of other departments. The crowd gathered when Charles S. Akers, in behalf of the donors, made the presentation speech, first touching on the pleasant relationships which existed between the foreman and the employees and second on the patriotic duty which he was to perform. He was taken entirely by surprise, and was deeply touched. The Service flag was adorned by a large star in the center on which was embossed his initials. He is the eighth who has gone from the treasuring and packing room.

Mr. Buckley is a young man highly respected by all who have made his acquaintance. He was more than a foreman in his department, he was a personal friend to the men under his charge and throughout the factory. All wish him success as a soldier and a safe return to civilian life after the war.

Returned Soldier
Walter T. Staples of Lewiston has been in town and stopping with Mrs. S. G. McAllister, 4 Water street. He has been in three branches of the service, the C. A. C., England and the Infantry. Mr. Staples was in France for a time last year in the 101st U. S. Eng. He had rheumatic fever and was honorably discharged last fall. Mr. Staples says he is going back soon with the boys and do his bit "over there" again.

Fiftieth Anniversary Services
Rev. Warren N. Tenney of Boston, Mass., "The Black-board and Sunday School Man", who was converted at North Norway, fifty years ago, is coming to celebrate his fiftieth anniversary next Saturday and Sunday, June 1st and 2nd. It is to bring his blackboard along and to be a chalk talk to the boys and girls at the Jones schoolhouse, North Norway and deliver an illustrated sermon Sunday next at 10:30 a. m. in the Union church at North Norway.

Your first duty is to your self and I ask nothing for the advice, but the Red Cross has a big hold on all of us. I presume some would be ashamed to let the world know how little they gave to the Red Cross. When a person is worth from $15,000.00 to $30,000.00 gives one dollar it seems a small contribution compared to giving one day's wages as many in this town have done.

Deputy Sheriff Harry O. Stinson returned Saturday from attending court at Rumford. The session adjourned until June 12 for special business. James Wright went to Boston; Thursday and returned Sunday. Mrs. Wright, who has been there for three weeks returned with him.

Frederick M. Davis played violin with the orchestra at the dedication of Harry Brown's pool mill at North Waterford, Saturday night. He remained until Monday with Newell Andrews. Several auto loads carrying dancers from the village also attended the celebration. Everybody reported a good time.

RED CROSS PARTY

Mrs. Inez M. Cummings opened her large residence on Pike Hill Tuesday evening for a Red Cross card party. Never in the history of the hill did so many people climb it as they did right round eight o'clock.

The house and grounds were brilliantly lighted and tastefully decorated. The fine views from the windows and the outside entertained the guests till night drew its darkening shadows over all and even then the twinkling lights in the valley and far distant lured many to the spacious piazzas.

Forty card tables were set for the games in the several rooms on the first and second floors. Mrs. George Waters received the first prize, $3 in War Thrift Thrift stamps; the booty, a tie, the prize going to Mrs. Eugene Smith and Frank Brett. Billiards, pool and various card and other games were played in the first floor section. The net proceeds were about $450.00. In the attic the young people who wished to dance, this room place with its nice dance floor, lofty roofs and airy windows is not the confined place an attic pictures to the mind, but an ideal hall for dancing.

Delicious refreshments of sherbet, fancy creams and cakes with wine from the famous spring just back from the house, were served by the hostess. Efficient waiters deftly and quickly attended the large party.

Memorial Day at Norway

Everybody turn out Memorial Day and make this observance one long to be remembered. It is the duty we owe the veterans of our past wars, and surely our patriotism should stir a feeling of appreciation to the noble fellows at this time who have sacrificed their lives for the world's freedom.

As has been wisely suggested "Let us make this day a sacred one, and put aside the sporting events which crowd from our thoughts the real meaning of this National observance which should command our thoughts and attention." It is not necessary to be overcome with morbid grief as a symbol of deep gratitude to our heroes, but let us all pause at least for one day as a testimonial to those who have answered the call whether at home or across the seas, and in honor to the soldiers who have been mustered into the vast army across the invisible border.

The procession starts from Woodman hall at 9 o'clock Thursday morning. Capt. W. Waldo Nash will act as marshal, the following order will be observed:

Bryant Pond Band, Boy Scouts, Fraternal orders: Moose, Modern Woodmen, K. G. E. K. of P., I. O. O. F., Masons, school children, Firemen, Sons of Veterans, Associate members G. A. R., G. A. R. in autos, ladies of the several orders in autos and electric car, 5 cent fare.

Exercises at Pine Grove Cemetery will be held at 10 o'clock. Rev. M. O. Baltzer and Cecil Brown, esp. At Norway Opera House at 2:30 o'clock. Prof. W. W. Mitchell of Bowdoin College will deliver an address. Stearns' Orchestra will furnish music and Berenice Nash will sing.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Elwell of Cumberland Mills are the guests of their cousin, Mrs. Eugene Hutchins and family.

A. L. Clark and family went to Old Orchard for the summer, Sunday, where Mr. Clark is the manager of the Seaside Drug Store.

Minnie Littlefield has gone to Plymouth, Mass., to work for the summer.

John Spurge, Jr., and family of New Jersey, who have occupied the Emma Swan cottage at the hotel, have moved to the house on the Grinnett cottage, Robinson, for the summer.

Dora Moulton of Portland has been visiting friends and relatives in Norway and South Paris a few days this week.

Mrs. Charles G. Blake has been on a "tour" of Boston, with her mother, Mrs. Lynn B. Chipman, and party from Portland.

"I've fished this brook 'Will' and so have you and if you will not say anything about it, I won't." This remark was made to W. O. Hicknell and the party making it supposed the brook was closed to fishing, but it was not and Bicknell was that cruel as to let him go home thinking he had violated the Fish and Game Laws. James Shedd is our authority.

Mrs. Harold Anderson was in Portland, Tuesday to attend the funeral of her brother, Karl L. Tower.

Priv. Clayton E. Heath, Co. E, 101st Engineers, A. E. F., writes his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Timothy L. Heath that he had been at the front for forty days, after a rest of three days they were sent again to the advanced line for another grind. Commenting on the German shells he writes that the high power missiles when they explode are "super blasting".

Mrs. Harry P. Jones and her mother, Mrs. Charles H. Adams have been visiting at C. Howard Lane's, West Paris.

Fred Bartlett of Andover was in town recently on business.

Felix MacQueen, who lectured here in the Winter, Chautauque is a noted traveler, lecturer and retired clergyman, has a summer home at Boothbay Harbor. He will deliver more than 100 lectures during a summer Chautauque tour in Pennsylvania. In September he goes to Europe as special correspondent of Leslie's. Mr. MacQueen is personally acquainted with Gen. Pershing, whom he met during the Philippine insurrection, and also a friend of Gen. Charles D. Edwards, formerly of the department of Maine, and a number of foreign soil and many other American officers of note. He has adopted Maine as his home.

The June meeting of the D. A. R. will be held Wednesday, June 5th, at Mrs. George Andrews. The field day planned for that day has been indefinitely postponed. The paper, "Azisoc's Dam" by Mrs. Sarah S. Bennett will be read and other numbers added to the program.

Harry Spiller, A. L. Cook, Phil Everett and Herman Richardson were at Pond-in-the-River last Tuesday. Rolled in a fur coat Shortie slept in his shop until 1 o'clock when awakened by the night watchman as per previous arrangement. They were to be met at South Arm at 5:30 by a special boat and were due to be at Middle Dam at 6:15 and fishing at 7:30 a. m.

BASE BALL

Norway High 9, Oxford Independents 6
Norway High defeated a combination from Oxford which included players from the Oxford High school and the village in an interesting game at the fair grounds Saturday afternoon.

It was late before the contest started as the visitors were bothered to secure means for transportation. Little time was squandered after their arrival as both teams were anxious to get after the sport and to something.

Oxford opened strongly and secured two easy runs off errors. Norway's batsmen failed to connect with Fuller's speed until their second inning. With three hits and two passes they pushed across six runs, giving a lead which was not overcome. After this wild start both sides quieted down to steady playing, frequently showing speedy base ball.

Truman Lost Last Match

Homer Truman won the first fall and lost two when matched with Scotty Campbell of Biddeford at Norway Opera House, Tuesday evening. The Norway Champion got his fall in 16 minutes, while Campbell landed his man in 7 1/2 and 17 minutes respectively. Fred Gregg the promoter, was referee and Mickey Welch, timekeeper.

The attendance was not large, but the draftees, who were the guests of the manager, added to the number and the enthusiasm. This main wrestling bout was well carried out with honors nearly equal. Both gamblers went after the purse with a relish and fought hard on every fall. Campbell undoubtedly had been warned beforehand that Truman's scissors were not to be trifled with and kept clear from that hold. He showed great skill and speed, living up to his reputation as a veteran of 150 battles in several states and a close second to John Kilonis. Truman wrestled with his usual skill and was kept on the move because of the aggressive tactics passed along by his opponent.

In the preliminary Kid Ledger won over Kid Lapham. Lapham took the first in 6 minutes but Ledger warmed up quickly, securing two straight in 6 and 14 minutes.

Kid Young in the semi-final got his first fall from Kid Albert Payne in 9 minutes, but lost two as "Paynie" limbered up and fought like a wild cat, securing a win in 14 and 29 1/2 minutes. The referee decided to call the bout a draw in 30 minutes as the boys were so closely matched during the last round a winner seemed impossible to pick.

A free complimentary dance was given the draftees after the match. Fred Gregg donated the use of the Opera House and Fredrick Howe made all arrangements as notifying the local dancers and supplying the music. Pennesseewassee Mandolin Club furnished the music.

Lillian Schoytage
Mrs. Lillian Schoytage, wife of Joseph Schoytage, a bandsman now in the U. S. service in France, died at the Central Maine General Hospital at Lewiston May 26, aged 16 yrs., 6 months, 3 days. She underwent a surgical operation but failed to rally.

The deceased was the daughter of Maurice A. and Margarette (Plue) Newton, born in Paris Sept. 23, 1901 and attended the schools of that town. She came to Norway with the family some three years ago and has made her home with her mother at W. E. Curtis' on Winter street when not employed at Portland. She leaves beside her husband and parents a sister, Rena, of Portland and a half brother who is with the army overseas.

Services were held at Leroy Spiller's Undertaking Rooms Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. M. O. Baltzer officiating. Interment in Pine Grove Cemetery.

Warren N. Tenney of Boston, "The Black-board and Sunday School Man" has been in town Tuesday, looking up financial ratings.

Ethel Nevins spent the week end at her home in Gorham.

James O. Crocker has been seriously ill the past week and is being cared for by a trained nurse Miss McMan of Lewiston. Mrs. Estelle Bell, who was away on her vacation was called home Sunday on account of his illness.

Jacob Astor Klain, who went with the 39th Infantry from Camp Devens has returned safely over seas. He was a student at Colby when the call came. He left his home April 2d.

The Auto Exchange & Sales Co. will open their display rooms at the corner of Main and Cottage streets Saturday, June 1st. Cars are to be demonstrated and plans are being made for a big attendance of interested automobilists.

Morris Prince of Mechanic Falls is visiting his sister, Mrs. Charles H. Pike. He leaves for Fort Slocum, N. Y., Friday, going out with the Androscoggin County quota from Auburn.

William D. Clark

"William D. Clark died at his home at Mechanic Falls on Monday, May 20, after several years of failing health. Mr. Clark was the son of Ezekiah Crockett and Sarah (Rawson) Clark, and was born in Paris, March 7, 1859. He was for a number of years in the grocery business at South Paris, and for a while at Bath. He lived on a farm near the village a long time and a few years since went to Mechanic Falls and opened a grocery store, which he has since conducted.

Mr. Clark married Ella F. Brown, who survives him, with their two daughters, Ruby A., wife of Chester A. Briggs of Mechanic Falls, and Rose, wife of Free-land Witham, also of Mechanic Falls, though Mr. and Mrs. Witham have been at South Paris with his mother, while Mr. Witham was recovering from the effects of a shock recently sustained. Mr. Clark is also survived by a sister, Mrs. Elliott E. Record of South Paris; a brother, Jarry J. R. Clark, and a half-sister, Mrs. Edith Johnson.

The funeral was held Wednesday and burial was in the cemetery at Mechanic Falls.

Dr. Charlotte F. Hammond and Alice Benjamin have arrived for the season and occupy the Benham cottage which they built a few years since.

George R. Morton and Lester L. Whitman, with five others from the Paris Manufacturing Co.'s factory including H. W. Denison, W. B. Strickland, Albert Ames, Harry McKee and Ned Whitney, went on an auto trip to Crystal, N. H., and thence around the mountains home by the way of Lancaster and Crawford Notch.

Mrs. Sophia Clark and Mrs. Luther Hollis, captains of the other side, knowing they were the losers, planned a little surprise, and when given the floor to entertain, they marched in with teas and assorted cakes as the defeated side were to furnish the treat.

Mrs. Leon S. Fairbanks and daughter Marjorie returned Saturday to their home in Abingdon, Mass. They came some weeks ago, on account of the illness of Mrs. Fairbanks' father, George B. Crockett, who has since died.

Francis S. Chapman formerly of Springfield, Mass., now in the Merchant Marine service, has gone to Newport News, Va., after a short visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Chapman of South Paris.

Paris High, after a long string of victories met defeat at North Bridgton Saturday afternoon, Bridgton Academy won the game with a 5 to 6 score.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph G. Gray of Portland were guests of Mr. Gray's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William L. Gray, Sunday. They were accompanied by Mrs. Gray's father, Ed. Sawyer of Portland, and her uncle, William D. Everett, of Bangor, Me.

Mr. Gray comes under the draft in the current quota from Cumberland County and will leave for Fort Slocum with the contingent next Saturday.

Clarence Barker, who has been employed for some time in H. G. Fletcher's barber shop has enlisted in the U. S. Naval Reserves and waiting the call.

The Memorial Sunday services at the Congregational Church were largely attended. The pastor, Rev. C. Wellington Rogers, delivered a sermon for the text "And ye shall hear of wars and rumors of wars, but be not troubled. These things must needs be; but the end is not yet." Fifteen Grand Army Veterans, the Sons of Veterans, and Ladies of the G. A. R. attended in a body. Special music was given by the choir.

Mount Pleasant Rebekah Lodge held a regular meeting in their hall Friday evening and the last programs of the contest were given. More than one hundred attended with guests from West Paris Lodge. Hattie Leach and Grace Thayer were captains of the first side to entertain. They marched into the hall at 8 o'clock led by Frank Kimball playing cornet and Ernest Herrick in a soldier's uniform. Next came Uncle Sam and Columbia deposited by Nathan Silver and Mrs. Alta Rankin; following these were 48 men and women representing the 48 States of the Union. Each one was dressed in costume carrying their state flag and wearing their state flower.

They included colored people, Japanese, Indians, girls in overalls to represent the agricultural states and many others. Original poems, prose and songs were given. The hit of the evening was an original poem by Albert W. Walker, "Sending the Kaiser to his proper place."

NORWAY AND VICINITY.

Appointed Signal Officer

Lieut. Charles K. Flanders, formerly of Norway has been recently appointed signal officer at Camp Merritt. He was born in Massachusetts, but was brought up in the state of Maine, residing in Stoneham and Norway while a boy.

Mr. Flanders was graduated from the Norway High School, and was for some time a conductor on the Norway and Paris street railway. Later he went into telephone work and was consequently manager of the telephone companies in Readfield, in Livermore Falls and in Lisbon Falls. At the time of his enlistment Aug. 23, 1917, he was district commercial manager with headquarters in Rumford, having charge of a territory of ten exchanges.

Mr. Flanders was a member of Co. D at Norway in 1905-6 and attended the second Plattsburg training camp in the 8th New England company, received his commission as first lieutenant of infantry on Nov. 27, 1917. He was assigned to Camp Devens. In December he was transferred to the signal corps and was assigned to Camp Alfred Vail at Little Silver, N. J., in March and later to Camp Merritt.

His brother, Joseph Flanders, is now at Camp Devens, where he made his home. Mr. Flanders is married, his wife the former Lola Knowlton of Livermore Falls exchange at the time of her marriage. Mrs. Flanders is with her mother Mrs. W. J. Mackay at Hartford where her husband is in the service.

Mr. Flanders is a 32nd degree Mason and claims his home as the army just now, although he says that Norway and Livermore Falls are dear to him and the latter his home town. His father died when he was about 9 years old and he was the man of the house for some time. He has a mother, two brothers and four sisters.

Among the local sports who attended the Kilobis-Campbell wrestling match at Lewiston Friday night were Homer Truman, Bert Truman, Fred Gregg, Mickey Welch, Don Whitney, Roland Hussey and Harry Morey.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe LeClair of Lewiston spent the week-end in town with relatives on Brown street. Mr. LeClair has given up shoemaking until fall and will farm during the season.

Mrs. Esther Cushman is with her sister, Mrs. Fannie Frost, for several weeks.

Gary Locke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alec Locke Fair street, was knocked down by a team on lower Main street Thursday afternoon while dodging behind the auto street sprinkler for a shower bath. He failed to ride the team coming in the opposite direction and ran directly into the vehicle. Leon Newcomb the auto driver, is pestered with children who, without thought of danger, rush into the street for a cool foot bath. It is a dangerous business and parents must warn the youngsters against this practice.

Florence E. Scothorne, who recently graduated from the Maine Eye and Ear Infirmary and commenced professional work at Portland, has returned because of illness and is spending a vacation with her mother, Mrs. Fred Gurney, at Hebron.

Aaron M. Babb of Tucker street is able to walk about near his home and work for short periods in his garden. He has been ill about two years, being confined to his bed much of the time.

Sergt. John C. Collins of Fort Levitt was in town, Saturday and Sunday visiting friends.

Senior Play, The Colonels Maid

One of the best local offerings for a long time was the three act comedy drama, "The Colonel's Maid," presented in the Opera House last evening by the Norway High School actors. It was a bright, witty play well acted and not too heavy for the cast, who carried out their respective characters in a creditable manner. A large house greeted the actors, and a nice sum which will be useful at commencement was realized.

The play belongs to the popular variety with clean fun and ridiculous situations at every turn, developing into a most complicated climax. It is the smoothing out of this most absurd condition into which three families are plunged through youthful matrimonial plotters, that hold the audience in suspense to the end.

Col. Robert Rudd and Col. Richard Byrd are enemies. Rudd's son, a domestic aid assistant to a Chinese cook, Ching-Ah-Ling. She wins the affection of the senior Rudd, who wishes legally to adopt her without knowing any past history. A sister-in-law, Mrs. J. John Carroll, and daughter Julia come into the home and scheme to unite the son and daughter. The young people have other plans so fail to measure up to the demands of the over anxious and exasperated parents. In the meantime Col. Byrd traces his daughter to the Red home and a stormy meeting occurs between these fiery persons. Byrd searches the premises but fails to meet his elusive daughter, thanks to the cleverness of Ching-Ah-Ling, the son Bob Rudd and Marjory Byrd, who hold all the trump.

When Ned Graydon appears at the home matters become more complicated. He loves Julia Carroll, but her mother objects strongly. To overcome her prejudice, he enters the game with the young plotters and masquerades as a student-scholarman. A faulty memory in critical moments nearly upsets the whole proposition yet he blunders along until an elopement with Julia is necessary to bring the situation to a climax.

At the end of this ridiculous snarl, Col. Byrd discovers in the widow, Mrs. Carroll, a former sweetheart, whom he believed married Col. Rudd after a duel years before, which caused the bitter animosity. He proposes to the widow and is accepted, a reconciliation with Col. Rudd follows. Col. Byrd finds his daughter, and Col. Rudd is astonished, delighted, to learn she is not "Hannah Katzenjammer," but his son's affianced.

Ned Graydon and his wife, formerly Julia Carroll are forgiven and happiness reigns supreme.

Harold A. Anderson as "Col. Robert Rudd," a widower of North Carolina, was a hot tempered and caustic tyrant, who pined quickly, but put on the reverse at a moment's notice. David Klain as "Bob Rudd," his son, in temper, proved a chip of the old block, matching his stubborn will against his father's and played a scheme which outwitted the stern Colonel. Arthur Bartlett in the personage of "Col. Richard Byrd," a widower of South Carolina, was another new character who had a deadly grudge against every person named "Rudd," and fully as explosive as his worst enemy.

His daughter "Marjory Byrd" as played by Ruth C. Akers, also had inherited a strong will and condescended to play a mental game with the Rudd home for the sake of being near her lover and winning a family reconciliation. Adeline DeCoster as "Mrs. J. John Carroll" impersonated a fashionable widow who, everlastingly berated her brother-in-law for the sake of the home, but agreed with him to force a match with the daughter and son, through the power of strong personality. "Julia Carroll" represented by Marguerite Frost, had no special love for Bob and would not give up to her mother's matrimonial demands.

On the contrary she remained true to Ned Graydon and won after a tempestuous voyage. Roger Sloane as "Ned Graydon," a young gentleman of exceedingly faulty memory, was a winner hands down and carried away the championship given for perturbation par excellence. His experience in the Rudd household under the assumed names of "Abraham Bixby," "Alonzo Benzine" and "Aaron Burr" while selling iridescent face powder, tri-colored suspenders and ladies' belts was a line of real comedy. He also doubled as "James Baskom" the lawyer who was called into the play when Col. Rudd in a fit of temper threatened to disinherit his son.

Roland McCormack who portrayed the crooked "Ching-Ah-Ling" proved in the end a valuable aide-de-camp and guardian of the peace. The long headed "Chink" worked in conjunction with the "children," but was a thorn in the flesh to the crotchety Col. Rudd and his exacting sister-in-law.

Harold A. Anderson, well known to the local theatre public coached the players and staged the three scenes which were set in Col. Rudd's kitchen and his library and costumes were loaned by Brown, Buck & Co. and furnishings by Horne's Furniture Room. Ned Burnell placed on the facial make-up. Milliken's orchestra of four pieces, furnished music for the play and dance that followed.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis A. Chandler arrived from Schenectady, N. Y., Sunday night on the return to their home in Mexico. They drove from Troy, N. Y., in an Oakland four touring car, Sunday, via the Mohawk Trail. The distance was 226 miles covered in 16 hours actual running time, averaging 20.13 miles per hour. The car made better than 14 miles on a gallon of gas. One blow-out in the evening and a heavy electrical storm with rains causing washouts were the features leading up to the trip.

Ben Hosmer went to Hastings Friday to visit his father, H. H. Hosmer, who is fire warden at that place for this season. Mrs. Lucy Dow of Andover, formerly of Norway, was operated upon recently at the Central Maine General Hospital at Lewiston. She has been in poor health for several years and the physicians now predict her health will become greatly improved in the future. Mrs. Dow is the daughter of Mrs. Fannie Eugene Frost of Paris street.

Mrs. Hannah A. Billings, who resides with her son, Frank L. Brett on lower Main street, is a remarkable woman at 91 years. She enjoys excellent health and retains her faculties to high degree. Few within ten years of her age have clearer vision. She easily reads without glasses the Red Cross receipt for a generous contribution, and quickly detected the wrong initial written on the slip. She is familiar with every phase of the war and her conversation indicates careful reading of news items and editorials on this subject.

NORWAY MUNICIPAL COURT

Wm. F. Jones, Judge

Oliver Drouin, 23, of Dover, N. H., paid a $10 fine and costs amounting to $5.09, for reckless automobile driving. The action was taken by Deputy Sheriff Ernest F. Shaw of South Paris with the authority of Deputy Sheriff Harry O. Shimson of Norway, Automobile Inspector.

The action was the result of an accident Thursday afternoon opposite A. D. Thayer's place on Pigeon Hill, when the six cylinder Reo touring car with six passengers driven by the respondent collided with a provision truck owned and driven by Owen P. Brooks. Brooks was backing his machine from the yard as the joy riders suddenly appeared traveling toward Welchville. Drouin endeavored to clear without slacking, but they came together. Neither car turned turtle, but the momentum carried the Reo on for a few feet before they stopped. Probably the 800 pounds of meat in the Brooks covered truck saved a spill as his car was pushed sideways the whole distance without toppling over.

Both cars were damaged considerably. Mrs. Drouin, the mother of the young man settled the damages to the amount of $105 with O. P. Brooks.

Deputy Sheriff Shimson has recently received his appointment as Automobile Inspector in this district from the Attorney General at Augusta, and proposed to investigate every case of this nature brought to his attention. A little caution at the wheel may save more money for gas later on.

HARKEN BACK ON THE PAST

Twenty-five Years Ago This Week

J. W. Swan has formed a company to manufacture picture frames, mouldings, etc., office and salesroom in Hathaway Block, opposite Elm House.

F. W. Sanborn and R. P. Thompson are at Caledonia, Nova Scotia, on a fishing trip.

L. P. Sweet won prizes enough for quite a respectable sized jewelry store at the Wheelman's Tournament.

Forty-five G. A. R., twenty-four W. R. C. and twenty-two S. of V. attended the Sunday Memorial service at the Congregational Church and listened to a very interesting and appropriate sermon by the pastor, Rev. B. S. Bideout.

Twenty-four Years Ago This Week

The Norway National Bank has purchased a large Morris safe.

The corporation has bought one thousand feet of new hose.

Fred H. Cummings crushed the bone in his right foot Saturday by having a rock drop on it. Fred gets about on crutches and seems to be pleased that it is no worse.

The Grand Trunk ran two special trains, one from Lewiston and one from Portland, bringing steamer from those cities to Norway at the time of the fire. It was a large expense to them as the two trains were out some 16 to 20 hours, yet the Grand Trunk cheerfully gave their services to the town.

Work has begun clearing the Opera House cellar.

Sophia Davis' house had a little of the walls left standing. In the cellar the butter was not even melted.

The new laundry machinery has arrived and D. B. Morse expects to get the laundry in running order in a few days. He has bought the old howling alley on Temple street and is to use it for his place of business. Mr. Morse takes care of all the work left with him. He expects to do it himself next week.

Brick foundations for buildings are considered better than stone since the fire, for the heat caused the stone foundations to crumble while the brick ones are in very good condition.

Jonathan Whitehouse has decided to build a two story house we understand, and will rent one tenement.

In 317 Signal Battalion

Elden D. Hall, formerly of Norway, is Sergeant in the 317th Signal Battalion at Camp Devens, Ayer, Mass. This battalion was recently presented with a silk flag bearing upon its staff a silver inscription plate as a gift from the Massachusetts Senate and was presented by Governor McCall.

Major John A. Murphy of the battalion promised that when the organization returned from France the silver plate would be suitably inscribed with the names and dates of battles in which it participated and that the flag should be returned to the chambers of the senate. The presentation was due to the action of the Senate in "adopting" the battalion which, made up of men from nearly every State in the Union, and is literally a federal proposition.

At the close of the exercises which were held on Beacon street, Boston, the officers lined up with President Wells and members of the Senate while the organization lunched at the Cambridge Armory. In a letter recently received from Sergt. Hall by his aunt, Lucy Hall, he said "everything is O. K. with us. President Roberts of Colby addressed the camp May 23. Believe me those tea cakes tasted mighty good."

Charles W. Evans went to Bemis Thursday afternoon where he has several weeks' work for C. B. Cummings & Sons Co.

Frank M. Buckley finished work Saturday at the Carroll-Jellerson Shoe factory and returned to his home in Brooklyn, Mass. Mr. Buckley came to Norway about seven months ago from Springfield. He left Brooklyn, Tuesday, for Fort Slocomb, N. Y., to enter the service.

Mrs. Ella Jewett Cole served new radishes and greens on her table, May 25.

Alton Curtis, Roy Jordan, Percy Pogg and Phil Haskell brought home a generous mess of trout from the South Arm in Andover early in the week. The largest fish weighed four pounds.

Mrs. Mary Chase of Fryeburg, Ann Wiley and Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Newman, and Mrs. Charles Brown recently spent the day with Della M. Noyes. Mrs. Chase, who is eighty-four years of age, is Miss Noyes' aunt.

ODE TO THE NORWAY ARMY

(Written by E. S. Worthen, Sergt. Worthen's brother.)

There's a little army in Norway, As sacred as our own, For it's all that is left to remind us Of the brave boys of Company D.

And as you pass it remember, It's your duty to salute with just pride, For it's all that is left to remind you Of the boys on the other side.

They left all they loved behind them, As they came from the farms and the hills, So don't forget that old army, For the boys "over there" love it still.

Germans are said to be wearing clothes made of paper. The Kaiser should be able to furnish them some raw material if they can utilize "scraps."

Children Like

To Take It

Thousands of children have worms and their parents don't know what the trouble is. Symptoms of worms are: Deranged stomach, swollen upper lip, sour stomach, offensive breath, hard and full belly with occasional grinnings and pains about the navel, pale face of leaden tint, eyes heavy and dull, twitching eyelids, itching of the nose, itching of the rectum, short dry cough, grinding of the teeth, little red points sticking out on tongue, starting during sleep, slow fever.

Always keep Dr. True's Elixir on hand for such cases. It is promptly effective and the nice thing about it is that children like to take it.

Mrs. H. W. Roberts of 502 Asylum Street, Flint, Michigan, wrote to us: "Have used the Elixir and as far as I know my little girl is cured of worms. She wrote in again later saying, 'Baby is fine and I think it was your medicine that helped her.'"

Dr. True's Elixir, the Family Laxative and Worm Expeller, has been on the market more than 60 years and more and more people are using it all the time to expel worms, or to tone up the stomach and restore natural action of the Dr. J. F. True & Co. Bowels. Children. Auburn, Maine. 22-30

Healthy horse thrives on Nature's food

If your horse is "off his feed" you cannot act too quickly to prevent more serious trouble.

WHITE'S GOLDEN TONIC

is intended primarily to keep the system in such prime working order that the horse will thrive on his regular food. So-called condition powders do not reach the real cause of the trouble. White's Golden Tonic is a real scientific medicine that acts on the liver, urinary and digestive organs and gives the power to throw off disease.

Golden Tonic is especially valuable in treating indigestion, loss of appetite, Swelled Legs, Yellow Water, Horse Distemper and the numerous diseases that result from run-down condition.

Good Wheat News

It is estimated that the winter wheat crop for this year is 86.4 per cent, which would show a yield of over 572 million bushels. This yield, together with the spring wheat, may show a total of one billion bushels.

This is splendid news, not only for our people at home, but for our fighting forces and Allies. Our farmers surely have caught the patriotic spirit of speeding up.

"WITH THE COLORS"

When I am far away
From you there in France,
I ask you to always think of me
And pray I have a chance.
To leave you dear was sad enough.
The sudden thing of all.
But I am not made of slacker stuff
When I hear your merry call.
To be at home with you dear
Is happiness, that is true.
But I cannot see the enemy
Down the Boy's White and Blue.
I used to be with you often,
Such beautiful, happy days,
And it makes me blue to think
Dear, that I am so far away.
Some day in the future,
This great conflict will end
And the soldier boy who loves you
Will come back to you again.
The pleasure, to every girl
Who is left so far behind,
To always remember the boy she loves.
Who is on the firing line.
He didn't want to leave you,
For he's a true American.
But he's a true American
And upholds the stars and stripes.
When the boys are marching to come
And singing our National Hymn,
It thrills his heart to know, dear,
That I am one of them.
And I told you, dear,
When I kissed your lips so sweet,
That I was going to wait;
And we again might never meet.
Don't give up my darling,
If you love me you will wait;
If we never meet on earth again,
We'll meet in the Golden Gate.
Some girls are not patient,
And will not wait that long.
And will leave for a soldier.
When he goes to fight the battle,
For his country and for his love.
His thoughts are with the one
He loves, still loves, so true.
If he returns, he'll be a hero,
And finds that you are false.
His whole life will be ruined,
And his happiness be lost.
Don't grieve my little girl,
Just make your love be true,
And greet the boy in khaki
When he comes back to you.
Don't respect the slacker,
They assure you of a chance.
The boys that you should honor
Are the boys who are going to France.

THERE'S A MAN

There's a man from this house that is fighting
in France.
This house on the brow of the mountain,
Brought his heart, while his blue eyes they shine.
As he drinks from youth's own crystal fountain.
There's a man from this house that is fighting
in France.
Keep my boy, keep him safe, prays a mother in the wild battle fray, in the charge and advance.
As he fights in the ranks with his brother.
There's a man from this house that is fighting
in France.
On the battlefield all bloody and gory,
In fat Fredgon's cause his sword and his lanes.
Flash under the folds of Old Glory.
There's a man from this house that is fighting
in France.
The traveler each day, he is reading
From the card in the window that tells at a glance
As home on his pathway he's speeding.
There's a man from this house that is fighting
in France.
Among the marines you will find him,
Doing his bit and taking his chances.
Like the other brave boys around him.
There's a man from this house that is fighting
in France.
And young Cecil is the name of the soldier.
He is there where the war here to battle
does prance.
No young heart sure truer or bolder.
Dana Harlow.

THE ENDING OF THE WAR

Last night while I lay sleeping
A vision came so fair,
I stood on European soil
With General Pershing there.
He stood with hand extended,
With calm and steady brow,
And said "The strife is ended,
The war is over now."
"This is the day of victory,
Here on the western shore,
We've crushed the Hun, we've stacked our guns,
Our swords are in the sheath.
"The day when Freedom shall abound
Like the ocean round us curled,
When the sacred hand of friendship
Shall clasp around the world."
I could hear the children singing
As they marched with waving hair,
And loud peals from the belfries
Rang out upon the air.
I saw no soldiers carrying arms
Nor gleaming bayonets fixed
I heard no sound of rolling drums
Or heavy cannonading.
"Come, stroll with me," the General said,
"Across the country wide,
I'll show you where our soldiers fall,
And where they fought and died."
Our flag was placed to mark the spot
Where shed the true and brave,
I kissed the flowers that I brought
To strew upon their grave.
The General spoke these words of awe:
"I thought the slacker would be brought
And bending low I thought I saw
A teardrop on his cheek."
"My life blood here I give
To make the world I leave behind
A decent place to live."
The fangs of war had left its mark
And shamefully defaced
Where the sweet cultivated work of art
Can never be replaced.
The river Seine flowed on its way,
I stood there on the shore
And heard a voice that seemed to say,
"The cruel war is o'er."
"Farewell, farewell," the General said,
And I hurried toward the strand,
I longed to be in America,
My own, my native land.
And open wide my cottage door
And stand and look afar,
And say thanks to Heaven,
"The ending of the war!"

NATURE STUDY

We know a bird which cannot sing
The reason why is just because
He is a "humming" bird.
"Miss Mary, quite contrary,
How is your war garden growing?"
"Well, potatoes I grove, and beans in rows,
And pretty much the same to the hoeing."
"I used to raise shells and silver bells,
But now I'm a great deal wiser.
Our war gardens stand an aid to our land,
And a help to beat the Kaiser."
GREAT AMERICAN GRAIN

The wheat shortage is destined to make the people of the United States acquainted for the first time in their history with the great American grain, wheat. When one comes to think of it, it is really surprising how few people in our land really appreciate this grain as they should. Corn bread, rightly made, has no superior as a regular article of diet. Those who become accustomed to its use frequently prefer it to all other bread, and insist that one never loses relish for it. Corn was the staple article of food of the American Indian, from whom a finer race, physically, never existed. It was also the mainstay of the African slaves in the South for two centuries, and on they thrive and labor. It is acknowledged by leading physicians that corn bread is much more healthful than wheat bread, and when once one has acquired a taste for it he becomes a convert for life. It is the merest trifling to say anything in its favor for the reason that it is the people to befall a forced abstinence from wheat bread so long as we have untold millions of the best grain God ever caused to grow out of the ground.

HARRISON

F. Lawrence Briggs in France
One of the boys who has gone "over there" from the town of Harrison is Frank Lawrence Briggs, son of Lewis and Louise A. Briggs. He was born in Harrison, Oct. 29, 1898. After attending the common schools in Harrison he assisted his father on the farm. He was especially interested in machinery.
Young Briggs enlisted last July in the 1st Maine Regiment, Heavy Field Artillery, Battery D. He went into training at Brunswick and later was sent to Boston. He he studied surveying. He was sent to England and shortly after to France, where he is now a private in the 101st Regiment, U. S. Engineers, Co. E, American Expeditionary Forces.
Mr. Briggs was last heard from by letter dated March 16th and received by his parents April 25th.
A short extract from one letter says, "I am engaged in repairing trenches and am living in a dug-out eight or ten feet underground, in bomb-proof cellar. I have seen several ruined cities."

SOUTH WATERFORD

Bear Mountain Grange
Bear Mountain Grange, No. 62, met in regular session Saturday evening, May 25th, with Worthy Master W. K. Hamlin in the chair.
At the business session it was voted that the hour for commencing the meetings be changed from 8 to 8:30 p. m. for the present. The dues of all members of Bear Mt. Grange in the army and navy were remitted. The literary program was as follows:

Song, The U. S. A. Forever.....Chorus
Reading, "A Message from Camp".....Sister Gaila Swond

Song, "The Battle of Verdun".....Chorus

After the close of meeting Captain Flora Abbott assisted by her committee and others entertained the members and friends in the dining hall with a bountiful grange supper of beans, brown bread, etc. This was an acquaintance with the terms of the 1918 literary contest, which provides that "the captain having the lowest count, shall, with the help of his side and any other assistance he may be able to solicit, provide a dinner or some sort of a feast for the grange." The next regular meeting will be on Saturday evening, June 8th, commencing at 8:30 p. m.

NORTH WATERFORD

New Members

There was a good attendance at the Grange meeting Friday, May 24th. After the usual routine of business the following program was presented:
Quotations.....All
Music.....Madeline and Bangs
Reading.....Rev. C. E. Eliopoulos and L. Flint
Question, "Can poultry be kept at a profit with high prices of grain?" Decided in the affirmative.
Reading.....Rilla Marston
Two candidates were found in waiting and were initiated in the 1st and 2nd degrees. The work was done in a pleasing manner by Past Master Lizzie Morse.
It was voted to have another supper and grange spasm and the committees decided to have it June 8th and plans are being made for a good time.

FRYEBURG

There are 433 names on the new check list.
Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Howe of South Windham have had recent visitors in Fryeburg, where they were the guests of Mr. Howe's father, R. M. Howe, and other friends at Mill farm. Mr. Howe, who was drafted while a resident of New Hampshire, was ordered to report for service at Ossipee, N. H. on Friday, May 24th. Mrs. Howe during her husband's absence will reside with her parents at Bartlett, N. H.

Harold F. Eastman, the second son of Captain James W. and Mrs. Ida Eastman, has gone to Windham to join the Junior Volunteers for farm work.
The North Conway, N. H., Woman's Club has been invited by Mrs. Helen B. Merriman, an honorary member of the club to hold their annual field meeting this year at her home, Stonehurst, Intervale, N. H.

Mr. and Mrs. Zenas O. Wentworth have gone to New London, Conn., having been called there by the illness of their son, Ensign Herbert, H. Wentworth of the navy.

There is an other vegetable for which there are so many delightful uses as for the potato. It combines well with other materials or it can be used all by itself. Surely you are not failing to make use of this versatile vegetable.

Stewed Potatoes—Cut cold or boiled potatoes into dice, add a stew pan with salt, a tiny bit of onion minced fine, and milk enough to half cover the potatoes. Set on the back of the stove and stew slowly, stirring with a fork occasionally until all the milk is taken up. Season with fat and pepper and serve.
Scalloped Potatoes and Cheese—Cut cold boiled potatoes into dice. When ready to use season them well with salt, pepper and melted fat. In a greased baking dish arranged alternate layers of potatoes, grated cheese and white sauce (medium), having sauce on top. Heat in the oven and serve.

Potato Peanut Loaf—One pint mashed potato, 1 cup ground peanuts or ½ cup peanut butter, 2 teaspoons salt, ½ teaspoon pepper, ¼ cup milk, 2 tablespoons fat, 2 eggs. Beat the entire mixture together and place in a greased baking dish; set in a second pan containing hot water and bake in the oven until firm. Serve with tomato sauce.
Potato Fudling—One and one-fourth cups mashed potatoes, 4 tablespoons fat, 2 eggs well beaten, ¼ cup milk, ¼ teaspoon salt, ½ lemon (juice and rind), 1 tablespoon sugar, ½ cup raisins and nut meat. Add to the mashed potatoes the fat, eggs, milk, lemon juice, grated peel and sugar. Beat all ingredients together and bake in greased dish three-fourths of an hour or longer. Serve with top milk.

Potato Puffs—Two cups mashed potato, 2 eggs, ¼ cup grated cheese, ¼ cup milk, 1 teaspoon salt. Add the milk to the potato and beat until thoroughly blended. Add the beaten egg and salt, gradually adding the grated cheese. Bake in greased tin or ramekins in a slow oven.

DEATH OF OXFORD COUNTY LAWYER

Hon. George D. Bisbee, lawyer, officer in the Republican, banker and political leader, died in his home in Rumford Falls, Sunday, aged 77 years. Mr. Bisbee was an active, interesting and influential man.

He suffered a shock on March 21st. Mr. Bisbee was born July 9, 1841, in Hartford. In common with country boys of that period, he had but limited opportunity to attend school, acquiring the ground work of his education in his native town in the common schools and rounding it out in the high school at West Peru. Before he had decided what career to adopt or make special preparation for, came those stirring days of 1861. Regiment after regiment was recruited, mustered in, trained and sent south. He cast his lot with the 16th Maine Infantry at its organization and went through to Appomattox.

Mr. Bisbee has written several interesting papers for the Maine Commandery, Order of the Royal Legion, reciting in part thrilling accounts of scenes when he and his comrades were in the death grapple which fell so frequently within the scope of a 16th Maine man. Two breaks occurred, the first after the battle of Fredericksburg, when he resisted attempts of surgeons to amputate his wounded arm and in consequence of which terrible wound he was given honorable discharge; the second, after he had rejoined his regiment with the commission of lieutenant, a year and a half held captive in a Confederate prison. He refused to accept release on condition he would accept discharge, being exchanged in time to go on with his comrades to the victory April 9, 1865, which he and they had been fighting for nearly four years.

He was at Antietam, Fredericksburg, practically incapacitated from his wound received there. Through the instrumentality of Vice-President Hannibal Hamlin, he was reinstated in 1863 in season to participate at Chancellorsville, carrying his wounded arm in a sling to move over in Pennsylvania, where the Lee's army was captured with scores of the regiment the first day of the battle of Gettysburg. Lieut Bisbee was held in Libby and other Southern prisons until December 1864, when released on exchange. It was the belief of Confederate surgeons that his arm would never be useful again and that he would never rejoin his command in the field. Despite that confidence, he was in camp and on the march the next four months, always declaring thereafter that the surgeons at Appomattox repaid him for his hardships, privations and sufferings of the previous four years.

He decided on law as his profession and applied himself so assiduously to the study of its tenets that he was admitted in December, 1865. He opened a law office in Buckfield in January, 1866, and remained there 22 years, being a close friend of Hon. John D. Long, native of the town and summer resident long after his removal to Massachusetts, where he became Governor, member of Congress and Secretary of the Navy.

Mr. Bisbee early acquired a keen taste for political combats and was a recognized Republican leader many years. He served as county attorney in the Senate and House, as commissioner during Governor Cobb's administration, as State bank examiner, as United States marshal for Maine, and in a host of minor capacities in Buckfield and Rumford Falls, whence he removed in 1892. He attended party conventions, town, county, State and national, was a keen and resourceful debater and brilliant stump speaker.

His law practice engaged his chief attention along with the business, enterprises incidental to it. Mr. Bisbee was a member of the firm of Bisbee & Parker, was a member of the Baptist church, trustee and active in the recent unit of Baptists and Free Baptists, was long a trustee of Hebron academy and chairman of the board in 1907, long vice president and later president of the institution, director of the Rumford Falls Trust Co., president and attorney of the Portland & Rumford Falls railroad. Interested in varied local enterprises and his whole career was one of great activity.

George D. Bisbee camp, S. of V. of his town and Bisbee school are named for him. He was a member and past commander of Joseph E. Colby, G. A. R. post, member and past commander of the local Legion, member of the Masonic bodies including the commandery and a subordinate officer in several.

He is survived by his wife, a son, Stanley, daughter, Mrs. Everett B. Joselyn of Cape Elizabeth, grandson, Capt. Spaulding, officer of the 103rd regiment in France, and a granddaughter, Mrs. Harry L. Kilburn of Rumford. The funeral was held at 12 noon, Tuesday at his late residence. Rev. Harold L. Hanson of Charlestown, Mass., was officiating. Clergyman. Burial took place at Buckfield.

A LIFE'S UPS AND DOWNS

A Boy Born in Oxford County Tells of His Eventful Life. Courage his Great Asset

Dear Sir: You have asked me to give you a sketch of my early life in Oxford County and our removal from there to Aroostook Co. My father, George H. Akeley was born in Milton Plantation. He was the son of John Akeley. My mother was Almira D. Penley of South Paris. My parents lived in several different localities before emigrating to Aroostook.

F. M. AKELEY

In the spring of 1860 father sold his farm and in company with his brother, Augustus, took a pair of horses and went to Aroostook, "what was then a frontier country" to explore, with an idea of settling there if it looked good to them. Father bought the improvements of one Joseph Piles and went to work. He put a small crop in the ground and left it to his brother to take care of and took a horse and started back to Oxford County after his family, horseback. He said the second day of his journey he got about ten miles and had to drive the horse ahead of him with a club. However he arrived in good time the sixth day.

It took him some time to get ready to move. He rigged six one horse teams and took all of his household goods. In one of the wagons he put a bed and stove and mother and the small children rode in that. There were seven children in all.

We settled in what was at that time the town of Mayville. It has since been annexed to Presque Isle. Father sold his horses the next year to go to the army.

In the winter of 62 and 63 father enlisted in the 6th Maine battery. He came home in August, 1865, after the war closed.

There were seven children born in Aroostook, making a family of fourteen. My mother died in the winter of 1885. Some years later father married Anna Davis. Two children were born to them, a son and daughter. His wife and the two children are still living. Of the first family there are six boys and two girls now living.

When I was twelve years old I left home, father being in the army, and went to work and I got six dollars a month. I worked eight months and saved $30 to take home to my mother which was quite a help to her. I continued to work out most of the time until I was 20 years old and as I grew older I got more wages. I worked on farms, in the lumber woods, on the drives, in the mills, etc.

When I was 20 years old I left Presque Isle and went to Fort Smith. I got a job to work for George Shepley as coachman. I worked there two years and went to the night school most of that time. Mrs. Shepley helped me to get a job with Shaw, Hammond & Carney, wholesale grocers, but the pay was small and I could not live so I gave up the job and went to New Hampshire and worked there a year.

While there I became acquainted with Miss Nellie Cummings of Lancaster, N. H. We were married Oct. 3rd, 1877 and went from there to Aroostook. When we got there my wife had fifty dollars and I had $150. We bought 80 acres of wild land with about five acres cleared and a little shell of a house 12 x 16 feet and moved into it. We paid our $200 on the place and had nothing to eat, drink or wear and no furniture or cooking utensils, and nothing but my hands to get anything with. But I worked out some and a dollar went a good ways in those days. We lived there three years, I made some addition to the house, built quite a good barn and cleared about 30 acres of land.

The second year that I was there I raised 2000 bushels of potatoes where it was never grown before the year before, hauled them to the starch factory, three and one-half miles with a pair of three-year-old steers and got 25c a bushel. At the end of three years I sold my farm and we had $1200. I bought a better farm, paying $1,000 down and giving a mortgage for $200. We moved to this farm in the fall of 1880. It took me 15 years to get this farm paid for and a good set of buildings, stock and farming tools.

I was burned out in 1895, "nothing saved," built a new set of buildings. About that time we had a series of hard years. I raised from 2500 to 3000 barrels of potatoes and for three years in succession they sold for from 20 to 40 cents a barrel and it cost not less than 75 cents to raise them. At the end of three years the fire and the potatoes had put me in debt for more than my property would sell for. The buildings cost $4,000 and the most that I could get for the farm was $4,500. I sold this farm and bought an old run out farm for $1,000. I improved this farm, lived there four years and sold for $3,700.

Since that time I have owned, bought and sold quite a number of farms. In 1907 I moved into the village of Presque Isle and have dealt in potatoes, fertilizers, sheep, lambs and cattle to a considerable extent and have had a large farm that I carried on at the same time. Six years ago, 1912, I was burned out again, "my farm buildings." My loss was about $7,000, "no insurance." At the same time my potato business went bad, hard years again and farmers did not pay for fertilizer, had lots of sickness. Creditors and Fertilizer Co. took the last dollar. Sixty years old, not a dollar left.

had to commence again, family helpless, dependent on me wholly.

Last year wife and I went to the Pacific coast. I expect to be again this year. I intend to locate there permanently. We had a family of six children, three girls and three boys. We lost one of our boys six years ago. The others are all grown up and have families of their own.

I have had quite an eventful life, but my health is good and I believe I can go to Oregon and adapt myself to the people there and make good along the same lines of business that I am accustomed to here. Having been there I believe it offers great advantages in the way of climate, health and comfort over this country. Our family is subject to pneumonia, most of us die of that disease.

One of the last incidents that I recall before we left Oxford County for Aroostook, was going with my parents to visit some of our relatives at Abbott's Mills. My father's grandfather was there. He was a soldier of the Revolutionary war and lived to be over 100 years old.

All my life I had longed to go and see the home of my early childhood. In 1910 I was out to South Paris visiting the Penleys. Chas. Penley and I went up the Androscoggin river until we came to the place. We found where the old schoolhouse had been, "all rotted down." We went up through the woods until we came to some large trees fell across the road. We left our horse and walked till we found the place where we used to live, where father raised great fields of corn. It was grown up to trees—a field to a foot and a half through. There were fourteen families in the neighborhood when we lived there, and every farm was abandoned. From what I saw of that country on that trip I think it is more than fifty years behind Aroostook.

F. M. AKELEY.

Mrs. H. R. Hubbard will run the Hubbard House at Paris Hill as usual this season, opening on June 20. See announcement.

GOING! GOING! GONE!

This is the story of many of our old friends of peace time commerce. One by one they become scarce and disappear. As sensational as any has been the story of the plebeian burial sack. A few years ago so common that grocerymen gave them away to get rid of them, and farmers used them for barn-door mats, now they have become so much in demand that a man will charge or farmer parts with one about as willingly as he does his fur overcoat. Burial is one of those products caught by the gods of war and is almost out of the commercial market. Burlap for household use has all but gone, and the price is away beyond its value. Used for sacks it cost only a question of time when it cannot be had. Fertilizer manufacturers have resorted to 200-pound sacks in order to make considerable savings. The price they are forced to pay for the sack has added materially to the cost of the fertilizer. And now we are facing the probability that sufficient burlap can no longer be had. Bulk shipment of fertilizer next year by rail means unlikely. Manufacturers are already considering the necessity. Meanwhile, it behooves the consumer, particularly the farmer, to save all the bags he has on hand and care for them to make them last as long as possible.

The great battle on the Western front is again resumed. The Allies lost ground, but later bulletins are more reassuring.

CARD OF THANKS

We take this way to express our thanks to our neighbors and friends for the many beautiful floral offerings and other assistance rendered during our recent bereavement.

COAL CONSUMERS MUST BUY WINTER SUPPLY NOW

Consumers must buy their winter supply of coal during the Spring and Summer for storage. It is best to be maintained at a maximum and the country enabled to avoid a serious coal shortage this winter.

Karl Lester Tower

Karl Lester Tower died suddenly Monday at Portland, death being due to pneumonia.

Mr. Tower was the son of the late F. Elliott and Dora B. (Carpenter) Tower and was thirty-seven years of age. For a number of years Mr. Tower resided here with his parents, coming here in 1905. He was an accomplished pianist and instructor of the piano and gave lessons here for a number of years.

For the past few years he has resided in Portland and was organist at the Chestnut St. Methodist Church. He has also played in orchestras and did concert work in Portland as well as in other places.

Two weeks ago Mr. Tower was in Norway to attend the funeral of his mother, who died May 11 and at that time was not feeling well, but his death came as a shock to his sister, Mrs. Esther Anderson, who is invited to this service.

Mr. Tower was the oldest of the three children and he is survived by his sister, Mrs. Harold A. Anderson, and his brother, Merton W. Tower of Portland.

The funeral was held Tuesday morning at the Chestnut St. Methodist Church in Portland and the remains brought to Norway for burial in the family lot.

Big Send Off for Draftees

More than a thousand people from Norway, Paris and surrounding towns gave the 137 draftees who were entrained at South Paris station for Camp Devens Wednesday morning a rousing send off and a heartfelt Goodspeed.

About 8:30 the large contingent gathered at the County Buildings for a photograph by V. Akers of Norway, after which they were arranged in squads. Sgt. G. E. Sinkinson of Camp Devens, who was detailed to conduct the line of march was taken to the station where three passenger coaches were in readiness for their departure. They were met by a long procession which included the South Paris and Norway Boy Scouts, the Paris High School and citizens. Singing and cheering by the Paris and Norway High School followed. The line of march was present and Bertrand G. McIntire grasped the hand of every man as the quota entered the cars to their assignments.

The young men who went to this time to perform their duty are a husky lot and qualified to uphold the tradition of old Oxford County. They came from the farm, the office and shop to do their bit. While they appeared cheerful, yet there was no show of careless levity, but a determined expression which brooded no good for the German army if they ever meet.

Towns in Oxford County are generously represented in the contingent, Rumford and Mexico being the more strongly drawn upon. Among the local men are from Paris, Elbridge F. McDonald, Ralph C. Ryerson, Allie Cota, Linwood M. Corbett, John Wilson, Roscoe Hazen Butler, Wallace Alton Oliver, Benjamin Bird Twitchell, Edward B. Shaw, Fred Norway, William Ferdinand McKay, Benjamin F. Hosmer, Edwin G. Austin, Carroll G. Herrick, Percy Y. Fogg, Herbert C. Rich, James Roscoe Crooker and Raymond H. Brooks.

Another Quota Goes Friday

Twenty-one draftees from Oxford County to fill Maine's quota of 500 will leave South Paris Friday May 31. They reported at 10 o'clock in the forenoon and entrained for Fort Slocum, N. Y., at 2:50 p. m. Among the Norway men are Wm. H. Bisbee and Ralph Oliver Millett. Paris will send Harold I. Merrill.

Ethel May Shorey Company

C. R. Shorey, veteran cross-road theatrical barn-stormer and printer for forty years or less made us a pleasant call Wednesday. He was enroute for West Paris where the Ethel May Shorey Company will hold the boards tonight (Wednesday) May 31. Miss Ethel May is his daughter and some actress, too. There are some six to eight performers in the company and they travel by auto. Yes, Ford autos, two of them and a truck. At 5:00 p. m. they played to a $79.00 house Tuesday night.

At Bryant's Pond Thursday evening, the 30th, and Andover Friday and Saturday. Then comes a jump to Jackman, Me.

Of course we were pleased to renew acquaintances with Brother Shorey, the show man, and to see that the weight of years sets lightly on him.

He owns a farm in Berwick, Me., where he rests up and spends his surplus wealth on the road and Ethel May writes plays and tends the flocks. He is a nephew of Major Henry Shorey of the Bridgton News.

Norway has completely gone over the top with their Red Cross contributions. The quota for the town was $772 but $1,750 has been received to date with amounts coming in. Fred E. Brown predicts the South Oxford district will go better than 100 per cent. when the final results are known.

Berence Nash completed her labors in the office of the Carroll-Jellerson Shoe Co., Saturday last.

Mrs. Florence Hall of Augusta was a week end guest of her sister, Mrs. James N. Favor and family.

Mary Dresser and Tessa Thibodeau, teacher of the 3rd grade, spent the week end with Miss Dresser's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Dresser, at North Waterford.

David O'Connell closed his labors as superintendent of the Carroll-Jellerson factory Saturday.

Marjorie Buxwell went to the C. M. G. Hospital, Lewiston, Saturday, for treatment.

BRYANT'S POND

Flag Raising at Bryant's Pond
Tuesday evening, May 28, about two hundred people gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dexter Peveley to witness a flag raising in honor of their son, Edward D. Peveley, who is now in France with the American Expeditionary Force.

The flag pole has just been completed by Mr. Peveley and set as it is on the eastern side of the wide lawn makes their pleasant home still more attractive. The following patriotic program was carried out:

Selection.....Bryant's Pond Band
Relate to the Flag.....James J. Bowler
Address.....G. W. Q. Perham
Selection.....G. W. Q. Perham
Remarks.....Harold Gammon
Selection.....Bryant's Pond Band

At the close of this program Mr. Peveley expressed his thanks to those present for this evidence of their appreciation of the work of our boys "over there."

Three rousing cheers were then given for Old Glory and three more for Mr. and Mrs. Peveley. The address of Mr. Bowker, who is one of the oldest Civil war veterans in town, was patriotic and stirring. In this speech he reviewed the history of the flag and showed not only why it has stood for to soldier and civilian in past wars, but also what it signifies in the present world struggle. Guests present from out of town were Mr. Edward Peveley, Mrs. Frank Trayer, Maude Campbell, Maurice Campbell and Master Campbell Eastman, all of Mechanic Falls.

Juniors Win Track Meet

The first annual interclass track meet was held on the high school grounds Tuesday afternoon. The real contest was between the Senior and Junior classes. OIL COOK STOVES

Save Coal for the Nation's Needs

If you use a New Perfection Oil Cook Stove you can give coal to the nation—and gain gas-stove comfort.

But the New Perfection is the only oil cook stove that gives real gas-stove comfort with kerosene. Its Long Blue Chimney alone insures clean, intense, instantaneous heat (free from soot and odor) for every cooking need. 3,000,000 now in use.

Made in 1, 2, 3 and 4-burner sizes, with or without cabinet top. Also 4-burner stove with cabinet and heat-retaining oven complete.

SO-CO-NY Kerosene and the New Perfection mean clean, economical, ready heat—freedom from coal hods and ash pans.

Use SO-CO-NY Kerosene—economical, convenient.

STANDARD OIL COMPANY OF NEW YORK

Ask your dealer about the New Perfection Kerosene Water Heaters and regular New Perfection ovens—none better.

WEST MINOT

Reception Given the Boys

The Grange hall was filled to its utmost capacity Friday evening, at a reception given in honor of Frank Love, Garvis Gillis, Lewis Martin, Fred and George Dudley, who are to leave on Tuesday for service.

At eight thirty the entertainment began by John Essenden of Mechanic Falls, selections by Whitman's Orchestra, also of Mechanic Falls and the singing of the National Song by all. J. M. Hatch addressed the boys and presented them with comfort kits and wrist watches on behalf of the townspeople.

The boys with their lady friends were given a luncheon and ice cream was on sale. A social dance followed.

The going away of these young men brings the war nearer to us as they are the sons of our boys to leave. However, we wish them well and feel that they may return victorious at the end of this war.

Mrs. Cora Irish and Mrs. Kate Young and son Maynard were in Mechanic Falls, Thursday.

Nina Doble spent Tuesday night with Cynthia Sawyer.

Mrs. Earl Gurney spent Wednesday in Mechanic Falls.

HEBRON

Mrs. Atlee Sturtevant has returned from the hospital in Portland, where she went for treatment. She is gaining and it is expected her recovery will soon be complete.

Mrs. H. B. Sturtevant of Waltham, Mass., was called here by her daughter's illness and is still here.

Mrs. Annie Beare visited her sister, Nellie Whitman, at the Sisters' Hospital in Lewiston recently. Miss Whitman is getting along well, now.

Mr. Alexander of Boston is the guest of V. W. Beare.

Farmers are getting their crops in as fast as possible. Help is very scarce.

BROWNFIELD

The engagement of Geneva Gertrude Sand of Brownfield, a trained nurse and graduate of the Maine General Hospital of Portland, to Dr. William Everett Freeman of Bath has been formally announced. Dr. Freeman is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Freeman of Bath, and a recent graduate of Bowdoin Medical school. No date has been announced as yet for the wedding.

Water Powers In Maine

As an added contribution to show the futility of utilizing the water powers of Maine to furnish heat and thus be able to supplant coal, the following letter from Prof. Charles C. Hutchins of Bowdoin college is published:

"BOWDOIN COLLEGE

Department of Physics Brunswick, Maine,
C. C. Hutchins May 9, 1918.

Mr. Wm. M. Pennell
Portland, Maine

Dear Sir:

As to the relative values of coal and electricity for heating purposes, the simplest statement I can make, which can be understood by everybody, is about as follows:

Suppose a building to be heated by steam—a good boiler will furnish to the heating coils about ninety per cent. of the heat energy contained in the coal.

If the same boiler be used to run a steam engine and dynamo and provided the engine be of the most efficient triple expansion type, then some sixteen per cent. of the heat energy becomes available as electricity. In other words, the cost of heating by electricity would be at a minimum more than five times as great as that of heating with steam. To this would have to be added the increased cost of plant and operating expenses, and in case of transmission to a distance, the further cost and line losses.

Yours very truly,

(Signed) C. C. Hutchins."

Is further evidence needed to prove that the statements of the advocates of State ownership of the Water Powers of Maine are unsound when they tell the public that these powers will furnish enough electricity to heat and light our dwellings?

If they ignorantly and wilfully promulgate these fantastic statements, are their claims to be accepted in other matters pertaining to this great question?

(Signed) WM. M. PENNELL, Publicity Agent.

RECOLLECTIONS OF EARLY SET- TLERS OF GREENWOOD AND THEIR DESCENDANTS

(By Professor Addison G. Verrill of Yale
University, continued from No. 28, published April 5, 1918). Descendants of William Cord-well, 1st, of Gloucester, Mass.)

Descendants of Mary Cordwell Who Married Micah Upton of North Norway

Mary (or Polly) Cordwell was born in Poland, May 11, 1784, and died in Norway, Feb. 11, 1881, aged 96 years and 9 months. She married, as his second wife, Micah Upton, Dec. 25, 1812. He was born Feb. 1781, and died in North Norway, May 7, 1879, aged 98 years and 4 months. He and many of his descendants were buried in a private burial ground on his old farm. His first wife was Polly Patch, born July 3, 1792, and died Dec. 20, 1810. She left no children.
She was probably a daughter of Timothy
Patch, an early settler of Greenwood.

Micah Upton was a son of Amos Upton, from Reading, Mass., who settled on a farm in North Norway about 1801.
Built the first grist mill there about 1801.
It is said that he personally quarried and cut the first millstones from local granite.
Micah Upton was an intelligent and able hard working man, and so was his son, Uriah H. Together they developed one of the best farms in Norway.

His second wife, Mary (Cordwell) Upton, had seven children, two sons and five daughters, as follows:
1. Uriah H. Upton, born May 31, 1813, and died Jan. 23, 1895, aged 81 years and 7 months. He married Hannah C. Noble, daughter of Nathan Noble, Jr., of Norway.

2. Polly Patch, born Sept. 13, 1815, married, May, 1843, James Chase Bennett of Norway. She had five children;
three were sons—Percy, born in 1845;
Albert T., born in 1847; Llewellyn H.,
born in 1849; a daughter, Abbie M., born
May, 1854, and married Frank H. Lovell, who married Frank H. Noyes of Norway.
3. Aurelia, born Oct. 24th, 1817. She married William Callum Pearce of Norway. They had ten children. (See below).

Harriet Newell, born Aug. 15, 1810.
She married Simon Stevens of Norway, who was born June 16, 1808, and died
May 31, 1873.

5. William B., born Feb. 17, 1822, and died Oct. 11, 1852, aged 30 years and 8 months. He married Rebecca Collins

Sergeant E. W. Andrews in France.
Sergeant Edgar W. Andrews, son of Samuel and Clara (Smith) Andrews, is doing his bit over across the ocean. He was born at Bolster's Mills 31 years ago.
He has four brothers and one sister. One brother, Lewis A. Andrews, lives with his wife and little daughter, Nellie, at South Paris.

Sergeant Andrews enlisted in Company
D, Second Maine Infantry at Norway, several years ago. He went with the company to the Mexican border, in 1916, as cook, and while there was promoted to mess sergeant, a position he has held ever since. He is a member of Hamlin Lodge Knights of Pythias at South Paris and the Loyal Order of Moose at Norway.
His grandfather Smith served in the Civil War.

WATER POWERS IN MAINE

The idea that our homes
may be heated by electrical energy is very appealing, especially when there is a shortage of coal. There seems to be a sort of magic in the phrase "white coal."
To see water running down hill and imagine that it means cheap heat is a very attractive idea, especially in cold weather. But what are the facts?

It is a mathematical and scientific truth that there are about three times as many available heat units in a pound of coal as there are in one kilowatt of electricity. A pound of good coal contains about 14,000 British Thermal Units of heat and when it is burned for heating purposes about 10,
000 heat units are available.
In a kilowatt of electricity
there are 3,415 heat units.
Therefore it requires about three kilowatts of electricity to produce as much heat as one pound of coal will produce.

On this basis a person using ten tons, or 20,000 lbs. of coal, in heating a house during the winter months will consume about three times
20,000 lbs. or 60,000 kilowatt hours: 60,000 kilowatt hours multiplied by the price per kilowatt hour, say three cents, two cents, or even one cent per kilowatt hour, will give a cost of heating the same by electricity varying from $1,800, $1,200 to $600 per year. This fact has been proven by actual tests of heating houses in Canada under comparative weather conditions.

It is also demonstrated by actual tests that it requires at least 18 horse power to furnish heat enough to warm a dwelling of six rooms.
There are probably 160,000 dwellings in Maine averaging six rooms each, and if all the undeveloped power that could be developed were used to heat houses only, there would not be enough power to heat one-fourth of these dwellings.

STANDARD OIL COMPANY of NEW YORK

MANUFACTURERS OBLIGED TO SECURE SUGAR CERTIFICATES

Food Administration Urges Increased
Use of Milk for Children—Asks
Farmers Release Wheat.

Orono, Maine, May 30.—According to the new sugar regulations announced by the United States Food Administration through Federal Food Administrator Leon S. Merrill no manufacturer using sugar in his products can obtain sugar without surrender of an authorized distribution sugar certificate. Certificates will be issued on receipt of a sworn statement from the manufacturer of the amount of sugar he used last year and application for the sworn statement form and the certificate must be made to Food Administrator Merrill at Orono.

Under the regulations no retail grocer shall sell sugar to manufacturers using sugar in their products after May 15th without the required certificate. This does not apply to bona fide legal contracts made prior to May 15th.

The seller of sugar is required to cancel and return to the Federal Food Administrator issuing them, all sugar certificates upon which he made sales of sugar.

Sugar For Home Canning.
Householders and consumer customers are required to fill out a certificate in order to secure sugar for canning purposes and these certificates will be provided by the retail dealers in each community.

Food Administrator Merrill wishes it distinctly understood that the sugar certificates are not for general distribution and must be retained by the dealers to be filled out by the consumer customers at the time purchases of sugar are made.

Milk Important Food.
Milk is one of the most important food sources the human race possesses. For the proper nourishment of the child it is absolutely indispensable and its use should be kept up in the diet as long as possible. Not only does it contain all the essential food elements in the most available form for ready digestion, but the recent scientific discoveries show it to be especially rich in certain peculiar properties that alone render growth possible.

This essential quality makes it also of special value in the sick room. In hospitals it has also been shown that the wounded recover more rapidly when they have milk.

For the purpose of stimulating growth, and especially in children, butter fat and other constituents of milk have no substitutes. Therefore, says the Food Administration, every parent owes to himself and to his family the duty of providing requisite amounts of milk, butter, cheese and other dairy products. During the last winter, when much agitation was being in some large cities over the price of milk, which was advanced from two to three cents per quart by reason of the rapid rise in the cost of feed and labor, many families among the poor were found giving their children tea and coffee instead of milk. Such methods of feeding fail to nourish the child properly.

In spite of the shortage of milk in Germany, that country has at all hazards maintained the milk ration of the children and in the hospitals, even though to do so has meant that the adult population has had to forego largely its use. In a "safety first" health campaign it must be remembered that it should be "children first."

Binder Twine for Harvest.
Farmers are earnestly requested by the Food Administration to place their orders for binder twine as soon as possible, so that the local dealers can provide an early shipment for an adequate supply of twine to meet their harvest requirements.

Retail dealers have agreed to distribute the twine to the farmers on a basis, which, considering the necessarily high price of twine, does not seem unreasonable. An ample supply of binder twine is assured, and therefore, there need be no uneasiness about the supply of twine in time to meet harvest.

Further Restrictions.
Further restrictions against the use of meat have been put in force in England, according to word received by the United States Food Administration. Only two coupons for butchers' meat can be used per week, instead of three as had been done since the country was rationed and the distribution put under the card system.

The British meat shortage is being felt more severely than at any time since the war started. That the shortage is not confined to meats, however, is shown by the fact that effective control of the milk supply is already being considered in order, to meet the possible greater shortage later in the year and that some sections of English labor are favoring extensions of the compulsory rationing system to bread, cheese, and tea. There is a marked difference of opinion as to the efficacy or desirability of such a move, however.

Urge Release of Wheat.
So great has become the European demand for flour that the U. S. Food Administration is urging farmers not to hold wheat for seedling their next crop except in a few States where the period of harvesting winter wheat overlaps the period of planting.

If you want metal for babbitt, we have it and will sell it at a reasonable price. Advertiser, Norway, Me.

RUMFORD CENTER

Struck by Auto
While returning home from an entertainment from Grange hall at Rumford Center, Thursday evening at midnight, R. Brooks Stratton, a civil engineer was struck by a passing automobile.

Two automobiles met and the driver of the Hanover stage was blinded by the glare of lights. In turning out he ran into Mr. Stratton, who was about, from behind, throwing the man down and running over him. The man was cut and bruised and received a bad scalp wound. He did not lose consciousness. His three-year-old son was with him in a baby carriage and was thrown a considerable distance, but received only slight bruises. The baby carriage was smashed. Mrs. Stratton, who was walking with her husband and the child was uninjured.

ALBANY

James L. Gould, who has been at work at the Corner for the last five weeks, has finished laying hard wood floors at A. G. Dean's and at the church vestry and went home to Lewiston, Friday. His aunt, Anna Cummings, went with him to visit her sister.

George Cummings, who has been over to Rumford for the last two weeks as juryman, got home Friday night. Fletcher Bean of Mason brought him home in his auto.

Charles Cummings and family of Hebron visited Abel Andrews' folks Sunday, May 26.

The apple trees were in blossom full 2 weeks earlier than one year ago. Last winter was a cold, hard winter for apple trees and we notice quite a number of the Baldwin apple trees that were winter killed. The plum and pear trees are not going to blossom much this spring.

The apple trees in this vicinity are not going to blossom as full as they did last year. They may not blight as badly as last year.

The planting is not more than half done yet.

Herbert Dean's baby has been sick for the last week and under the care of a doctor from Waterford, but is better at this writing.

Olive Wardwell, daughter of Isaac Wardwell, has graduated at the hospital in Portland and recently returned home. We are proud to say that Albany can boast of having one trained nurse in town. Grass is looking well.

Herman Cummings, who started for the war April 29, is still in the hospital. D. A. Cummings has just finished shipping his apples that he had of William Grover. The last three lots he shipped to New Hampshire went for cider apples and the apples were ground up and made into cider in the town of Stark. Apples were so cheap it would not pay to buy barrels to put them in.

Clarence Waterhouse is at work for George Cummings. Forest Churchill is at work farming with his pair of horses, quite a lot this spring, besides doing his own work.

A. G. Bean is quite feeble this spring but he is determined to work and does all of his chores and saws and splits wood and tends quite a flock of hens.

Tyler T. Cole is poorly this spring part of the time.

EAST SUMMER

Earl Staples has enlisted in the cavalry and started for Fort Slocum, Friday. His wife and two children will, for the present, stop with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Bonney.

The Red Cross in this vicinity now has over 200 members. Carl Stephens, who has been soliciting for the "drive" in this part of the town, reports good success.

R. G. Stephens took W. D. Tucker and wife, Elden Tucker and wife, and Augustus Record and wife to Turner in his auto Thursday evening of last week to attend the wedding of Philip Tucker and Clara Knight.

Mrs. Grace Barrows and little daughter Adrie have returned to A. H. Harlow's after spending a few days with the family of Milton Luce in Harlow.

Mildred Keene, who was home for a few days, has gone to Pleasant Island for the summer. She has been in an office in Portland for several months.

E. R. H. Stetson has hung a service flag in one of his store windows for Roger Eastman, who was a clerk there before his enlistment.

Walter Russell is selling grain for the Farmers' Union.

Several from here attended the party at Mrs. Esther Grace's, Saturday evening, in honor of Horace Crockett, who left on the following Tuesday for Fort Slocum, N. Y. A very pleasant evening was passed. Percy Redding, with a neat little speech, presented Horace with a wrist watch, in behalf of his friends.

GREENWOOD

Mrs. L. B. Emmons, who has been dangerously sick with scarlet fever, is improving. L. B. Emmons has left the quarantine and is staying at his father's, W. O. Emmons.

R. N. Morgan was at home over Sunday.

Ruth Cole was at home from Gould's Academy over Sunday.

L. B. Emmons and W. O. Yates went to South Paris, Monday.

Mrs. Carrie Swan from Norway, who has been nursing Mrs. R. E. Morgan and infant daughter, has gone to Greenwood Center to visit her daughter, Mrs. D. R. Cole.

Patch Mountain

Randall Herriek spent Sunday at home. A. N. Rowe and family of Oxford visited at Randall Herriek's, Sunday.

SWEDEN

Nearly all the farmers in this vicinity are through planting and now they are praying for rain to get their seed out of the ground.

Given Surprise

Clayton E. Tower will start for Camp Ayer, Mass., some time this week. Eighty or more of his friends gave him a surprise Thursday night. The ladies all brought a box of food which was numbered and the gentlemen drew a ticket to get them. There were recitations by the scholars, also C. E. Jones spoke two nice pieces. Some of the guests wanted to dance. Black Mountain musicians furnished music a part of the time, also Mr. Durgin on the organ. Enfield Plummer presided at the organ. At a late hour all started for their home, saying they had enjoyed a very pleasant evening.

Ed. Hodgdon has bought a small yoke of oxen, yet they are large enough to do his spring's work.

Your correspondent wishes to say a few words in praise of C. Andrews' sixteen nice steers that he wintered. Several of them said they never saw as many in one herd as nice looking steers as they were. Mr. Andrews hired Ben Knight to take care of them through the winter.

WILSON'S MILLS

Outsiders are coming in with autos for the first try at trout fishing, while the farmer is eating salt junk because he can't get time to go fishing.

The funeral was held Monday afternoon at the home, Rev. Mr. Atwood officiating. Interment was in Woodlawn Cemetery.

BETHEL

Bethel Grange

At Bethel Grange meeting Thursday evening five candidates received the third and fourth degrees. Refreshments were served after which the program was carried out which included song by grange members, reading, clippings by different members; the Master gave a very interesting talk on the good of the order.

Mr. Cushman has been a member of the Grange many years, has served as master six years, and is very much interested in the Grange. He told what the Grange was over forty years ago and related an amusing incident. He said that years ago "They had just taken in a large class of young people and as they were desirous of keeping them interested some one proposed having a drama when an old lady remarked, "I don't want to see a drayman and I am not going to now." That ended it. Another time a young man carried his violin but there was objection to quick music in the Grange, and finally they lost their young people." He told the different things the Grange had been influential in bringing about like the parcel post, the rural delivery, etc. The lecturer announced that at the next meeting, June 12, the circle would meet in the afternoon and have a supper.

Memorial Exercises

Thursday, May 30, at 8 a. m. the graves of veterans in the various cemeteries will be decorated with flags and wreaths. At 9:30 the veterans and Sons of Veterans with the band will go to East Bethel for Memorial services at the church.

At 1:30 p. m. there will be exercises at the Soldiers monument. Grammar school children will march from the school building to the monument to take part in the exercises. "America" will be sung led by the band. "Lincoln" the Gettysburg Address will be given by Harry Young. The lines will then reform and march to Ocean Hall, where Rev. Arthur M. Soule of Gray will give the Memorial address.

Next Sunday at the Congregational church at 2 o'clock p. m. will be given the baccalaureate address by Prof. Gilbert Tolman of Colby College.

The Memorial exercises Sunday morning were very impressive from the march to the church to the sermon. In the procession from the hall led by the Bethel band were Boy Scouts with their Scoutmaster, the Sons of Veterans, then the Veterans, next the members of the Women's Relief Corp with quite a large delegation of Odd Fellows. Just before leaving the church the band played "Where is My Wandering Boy?" The church was filled, and after the band played a selection, the invocation was led by Rev. Mr. Curtis, all joined in the Lord's prayer and while the people remained standing everybody sang two stanzas of "The Star Spangled Banner."

Rev. Mr. Curtis read the Scripture and Mona Martyn sang an impressive solo. Prayer was offered by Rev. Mr. Little and Mr. Curtis read the President's proclamation regarding the setting apart of Thursday as a day of fasting and prayer. Then came the sermon from the text "What Mean You by this Service?" found in Exodus 12:26 by Rev. Mr. True-man.
